Re: New roof on Shalom College, UNSW

Hooky's Roofing was selected as the contractor to replace our 35 year old tile roof with a new metal roof in 2009.

With only a limited time window in which to complete the work, over summer when our occupancy is at its lowest, it was vital that the job be completed both on time and on budget.

Glen Vandenhoeck led his team with solid direction and management. His experience and knowledge was always evident, his style and manner always honest and up front. There were no surprises. Work was carried out as promised, anything which was requested was done promptly and professionally. We were able to trust that no corners were cut and that the job was completed with the highest level of workmanship.

Matters relating to cost were discussed and explained with options and reasoning always provided. There were no hidden extras.

I highly recommend Hooky's Roofing for any roofing work. Glen can be relied upon to give an honest and fair appraisal and to do a job that one can have complete confidence and trust in.

Yours sincerely
